DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. In claim 9, applicant is claiming a system comprising a flow classification program and a filtering program. Since the systems are software programs they must be embedded on a computer readable medium.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C.

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With regards to claim 1 applicant claims in line 12, ...the bandwidth allocated to said data traffic and said voice traffic... It is not clear which bandwidth applicant is claiming since there is no indication in the claim that bandwidth was previously allocated. The claim only mentions that the generating devices require second and third amounts of bandwidth. It is not clear from the claim if these bandwidths are allocated. Hence it is not clear what bandwidth allocated to these devices are adjusted. It is also not clear if the second and third bandwidths make up the first bandwidth if they are bandwidths required in excess of the first bandwidth.

With regards to claim 9 it is not clear if the flow classification program and the filtering programs are computer programs or structures.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "the public telephone system" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "each of said systems" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-8, 11 are allowed.

Claim 1 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
